I am Kira

I signed for the release of Jorge.

When we came out, he refused to stay inside my house and he preferred to stay in a white van in front of the house.

The next day, he wanted to go to his house.

I asked a friend of mine for a ride so we could take him; from there, he called me and said he would not cause me any troubles and that he would first take the problems upon himself.

I never imagined that he was going to remove the alarm from the foot.

A while later, someone sent me a message saying that something had happened with the foot alarm. I tried calling Jorge. He no longer answered me.

That night I went to the ap. [sic] and knocked, no one opened [the door]. I came back and somebody from the courts got in touch with me. I was told to go back and see if I could hear the foot alarm. I said that I was just coming back, but I will go back.

When I went back, I could hear an alarm. I knocked and knocked, and no one answered.

I turned the knob and the door opened.

I got in touch with the person who called me and said that the door opened:

I called out loud "Jorge, Jorge" and he did not answer. I searched for the alarm and I finally found it: the lady told me to take it home with me, that she would come get it at the house.

I called her and told her I had an errand to run downtown the next day, and asked if I could bring it to her? And she said yes, to please bring it over.

Well: I learned that Jorge left for Houston. And then, to Mexico.

Days ago, I learned that he had been kidnapped and it has been 3 weeks that no one knows anything from him.

Whenever I receive these letters, I get scared. I don't know what to do. I do not work, I don't have for rent, nor food; much less 50,000 dollars. I am very stressed, I have high blood sugar, high blood pressure just from this stress.

I don't know what to do.
